Senator Campbell Statement on Austin receiving U.S. Army Futures Command

AUSTIN – "Austin's selection as the site of the Army Futures Command Center is an historic announcement for Austin and Texas, as the U.S. Army prepares to lead us into the new frontier in defense and military modernization. I wrote multiple letters as Chair of the Veteran Affairs and Border Security Committee advocating for this move and the jobs it will bring to our state. Texas is the most military and veteran friendly state in the nation. The Army could not have picked a better location."
